BANKS BROUGHT TO BOOK

HON H L DAWES ON THE FINANCES

In an interview with Hon Henry L Dawes of Massachusetts on Tuesday, he referred to some of the absurd statements in regard to the finances of the Government which Gen Banks made in his Saccarrappa speech last week, and Mr. Dawes is desirous that they should be corrected that the people of the country, and especially at this time those of Maine, may not be misled

First. The reason why the interest on the public debt is not included in the expenditures of the Government to-day is because it is a liability incurred on account of the war of the rebellion, and has nothing to do with the ordinary expenses, while it is properly to be included in the 1860 statement because the debt represented there was incurred by President Buchanan's Administration on account of ordinary expenses Buchanan, during his Administration, increased the public debt from $28,000,000 to $90,000,000, and used up $17,000,000 out of the $19,000,000 cash on hand, and was obliged to pay interest on $45,000,000 debt incurred in carrying on the Government in the time of profound peace During his four years the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $61,000 000

Second The money paid for pensions should not be included in the expenditures, because they are for pensions of Union soldiers of the recent war, which is not an ordinary expense In 1860 the pensions were included in the expenditures because they were small in amount and only for the few remaining Revolutionary veterans who have since passed away, and for the wounded soldiers of the war of 1812

Third The statement that the current ordinary expenses of the Government, exclusive of the war expenses, are $150,000,000 is not true, they being only $82,000,000, and the action of $45,000000 being taken unnecessarily from the people in surplus taxes and excessive expenditures is all moonshine, and made for campaign and political purposes

SUMNER'S UNSPOKEN SPEECH.

The proof sheets of another speech of their by one pages, by Senator Sumner and bearing the above title, have been placed in our hands, but could we devote each or ten columns of THE GLOBE to the reproduction of this flensely egotistical effusion, we should be unwilling to make our paper the vehicle of the mad Senator's specious arguments and persona spite. The document is addressed to the crafty Bird who broods over the callow nestlings of the Liberal Republican flock in Massachusetts and was to have been delivered at Faneuil Hall, but escaped the public ire intended for it The very general condemnation of his former attacks upon the President have taught Mr Sumner unexpected wisdom, and prohting by the criticism of his friends upon the objectionable tone and matter of those attacks, he has in the present production to some extent steered clear of his former indiscretions. The key note of the speech is to be found in the following sentence taken from the last paragraph Men in this world get only what they give,—pruidge for prejudice,—animosity for animosity,—hate for hate" That is what the Senator doubtless feels to be justly due to President Grant for the famed slights put upon himself, and consciously or unconsciously, the vain glorious statesman and pedantic scholar proceeds anew to pay off his cherished grudge with prejudice, animosity and hate

In giving his reasons for supporting Greeley against Grant, Mr Sumner refers to the Cincinnati platform as notably Republican, and the best ever adopted The ugly plank about decentralization and State rights he gets over very easily by citing the qualification thereto which Mr Greeley made in his letter of acceptance, "subject to our solemn constitutional obligation to maintain the equal rights of all citizens" If Mr Sumner thinks the Southern enemies of the black man will be bound by this "rider" put on by Mr Greeley by way of private interpretation, all we can say is that he is quite as credulous as charitable Of course, the two reasons for supporting Greeley are civil service reform and reconciliation, though upon these points nothing very new or striking is advanced We come next to Mr Sumner's full chime of nepotism, gift taking, office barter, St. Domingo and the Black Republic, and here he rings a triple bob major that would fairly have started the cobwebs from the walls of old Faneuil had the oration delivered his speech as published The bowels of the speech are, however, filled with something more substantial than the airy changes rung by the Senator upon his five cardinal points of "Grantism" they being stuffed to repletion with a rehash of all his old speeches for the past ten years, which are made to do duty like a string of sausages, under the egotistical caption of "Personal Record"

We come next to some lunar speculations about the sincerity of the Democratic convension, the Pentecostal outpouring which Mr Bird extolled over the Chappaquas, and the Senator gives various and sundry reasons, drawn from the sayings of Messrs Hendricks and Ke tc, two Indiana men, why the South will be gown like a lamb and respect the black man's rights. But we see no authorities for Southern States quoted in support of this close-cropped view, and would barely suggest that a few words of this stamp from some of the prominent ex rebels would produce a heartier belief in the sincerity of the reconciliation of which Mr Sumner boasts Is it possible that no such declarations have yet come under the Senator's notice? After receiving a touching assurance of faith in Horace Greeley, Mr Sumner draws to a close by asking if it is not time for the pen to take the place of the sword, and shows what he knows about hydraulics by asking, with exquisite taste, "if it is not time for the executive mansion to be changed from a barrack cuss pool to a life-giving fountain?" To this search ing question, which, by the way, we are utterly unable to answer, succeeds the statement that, 'by military education and military genius the President represents the idea of force' Well, we rather think Mr Sumner is right there, he must have found it so when he tried to force himself into power as the "Foreign Secretary" and crowd Gen Grant out, Jeff Davis and General Lee must have found it so at Richmond, at Appomattox, and a several other points during the war

The concluding reason given by the Senator for dropping Gen Grant and putting Farmer Greeley in his place is touching, very touching indeed, and marked with a consideration for the feelings of the ex rebels which does honor to Mr Sumner's heart "The time for the soldier has passed, especially when his renewed power would once more remind fellow citizens of their defeat. Victory over fellow-citizens should be known only in the right it adores, nor should it be flaunted in the face of the vanquished. It should not be inscribed on regimental colors, or portrayed in pictures at the National Capital. But the present incumbent is a regimental color with the forbidden inscription, he is a picture at the National Capital recalling victories over fellow-citizens." It might, perhaps, have been as well for Mr Sumner to have given just a moment's thought at this point to the feelings of the "boys in blue," and the parents, widows and children of those who are gone. As it is, we rather think a grateful people will insist upon seeing the "regimental color" and "pictures" at the Capital established there once more.—[Boston Globe

SPEECH OF HON H L DAWES

THE DEMOCRATS AND LIBERALS THOROUGHLY OVERHAULED

We copy the following condensed telegraphic report of the powerful speech of Hon H L Dawes, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, delivered at South Windham on Monday evening

After passing a very high compliment upon Mr Douglass as the representative of his race, he proceeded at once to discuss the record of the Republican party. He argued that that party appealed to its record at Philadelphia as a warrant for confidence in its future while the Democratic party caught at a straw and nominated Greeley. He said that the Cincinnati Convention was composed of men who went out from the Republican party on the cry of reform, and they were, therefore, stopped from complaining if they were proven incapable of carrying out reform. Glancing briefly and eloquently at the grand achievements of the party he declared that every step of the way had been resisted by, as it had been achieved in spite of the Democratic party If the acceptance by that party from any motive of these results be genuine, what is the further use of that body as a party, or as an organization? Why not disband at once and emerge into the regular Republican organization? But is this conversion sincere? They allege that it is, and demand all the results of a prosperous government as a reward for their conversion What assurance do they give that they can be trusted? They give nothing but their promises —for having been bankrupt in promises all their lives, common prudence governing us in our own affairs, dictates that we should put no faith in promises which the life of the party has given the lie to To show how little men can control their purposes, Mr Dawes brought up the Cincinnati convention as an illustration That convention was called by its originators not to nominate candidates, but to make public sentiment for reform and civil service reform, and was taken possession of by the scheming politicians who nominated the very father of protection, and who was so uncertain on the subject of civil service reform that Carl Schurz had to write him a letter, after it was all over, to learn how he was in favor of it Discussing this point Mr Dawes eloquently said that the latter has not greater power over his clay, to make one vessel unto honor and another unto his honor than had the party which elects a President over him and his Administration If Mr Greeley, in accepting his nomination, declared himself just as much a Republican as ever, and the New York World urged its millions to vote for him, because under him they would have a Democratic Administration, then there was a choice on one side or the other, or else it was understood on both sides and there was a cheat all round. Dropping then the burdens, the sacrifices, and the victories of the loyal people, and the memories which centre around them, Mr Dawes addressed his hearers to consider for a moment the bravest impudence of the demand that the fruits of these sacrifices should be plucked in the hands of the men who but six years ago were only permitted to enjoy life and property through the magnanimity of a conqueror's great heart Considering the question whether the party was worthy of such a trust, he put Horace Greeley on the witness stand and compelled him to testify, although Mr Greeley's utterances in regard to the Democratic party were true, what a party! If they were not true, then what a liar! And if they were not true, the party could not support Greeley without infamy, and if they were true, Mr. Greeley could not be its candidate without infamy. Let the impalement be on either horn of the dilemma. Coming to the question of reconciliation, Mr Dawes discussed it very ably He wanted it understood that reconciliation meant concession Now, was there any body on the side of the loyal people who suggested himself required to make a concession? What was there to reconcile? What have we to apologize for? Is the boy in blue to take off his coat, or the boy in gray to take off his? Is not every man at the South who loyally obeys the laws at full liberty to walk in peace the face of the earth?—Has the white Union man of the South or the loyal black man any need of reconciliation? They do come up to ask it. Who then asks reconciliation? Is it not the men who stand ready to outrage the law, and now want to clasp unrepentant hands across the bloody chasm? Mr Dawes then proceeded in an able exposition of the Ku klux law, and the necessity for its enactment. He reviewed the circumstances of its passage, and showed that were it not for the encouragement which the Ku klux drew from the Democratic victory in New Hampshire in 1871, its necessary would have been avoided. The violence which arose from that result aroused the Republicans in the House and in the country, and Connecticut stemmed the tide of Democratic victory, and the Ku klux law was passed Then reading the law, the speaker inquired whether any President failing to protect the people from such outrages, would not deserve impeachment? In a few brief words he cleverly showed the scope of the law, and the absurdities of the charge that it oppressed or interfered with anybody but the law breaker

Mr Dawes then arraigned the Democratic party for the malignant record and its short comings at the very last session of Congress This was illustrated by the demand of the Democracy for amnesty, which was granted by the votes of colored members of the House who in turn were refused their civil rights by these same amnestied Democrats who voted seventeen times in succession against their bill Mr Dawes then in a few concise remarks, laid before his very attentive audience an exceedingly simple and interesting exhibit of the finance—one thoroughly adapted to the clear comprehension of his auditors, so thoroughly presented that it fortified them abundantly against all the misrepresentations of men like Trumbull, Banks & Co. Without recapitulating at length here at this late hour is sufficient to say that wherever Mr. Dawes can say what he said to-night in this respect he will carry conviction to every honest heart that his voice reached He was so clear, so convincing, so fair and yet so irrefutable, that his hearers went away thoroughly grounded in the truth. In conclusion, Mr. Dawes then compelled the leading members on the Democratic side of the House of Representatives Beck, Swann, Brooks and others, to stand forth in eulogy and in commendation of the great feature of the foreign, Indian and financial policy of the Government, and pictured in vivid colors the crushing of every loyal interest of the Government and every business interest of the country by the election of such a yielding, vacillating, weak and uncertain man as Horace Greeley.

A party is engaged dredging in the river at the head of Swan Island, just above Richmond. The work is done for the government by contract. It will probably take some two months to complete the channel.

The autumn session of the Maine Board of Agriculture, including a Farmers' Convention, will be held at Skowhegan, commencing on Tuesday, Oct 8th, and continuing through Thursday and Friday.

ANOTHER REFUTATION

TESTIMONY OF A WELL KNOWN PORTLAND PHYSICIAN TO GEN GRANT'S PRIVATE HABITS

From the Portland Press

It seems almost unnecessary to relate anew the disgusting slanders and tittle-tattle about the President's personal habits which have been already so often and so conclusively shown to be baseless, but lest that any one in this vicinity may be misled by the persistent and reckless throwing of mud by unscrupulous partisans, we publish the subjoined letter of Dr French, whose name is sufficient guaranty to our citizens of the accuracy and reliability of his statements

PORTLAND, Sept 3 1872

Statements in regard to the intemperate habits of President Grant have been before the public for years, serving as an ever ready fling to those who wilfully malign him and a drawback to the confidence of many who otherwise trust him Much has been written in refutation of such reports, still there are many doubters and as I have been requested to state what I know of the matter from positive personal observation, I will do so very briefly

The origin of these stories about the President's abuse of ardent spirits can be traced as far back as 1863 to a certain newspaper correspondent, who in the capacity of aid-de-camp to a well known Union general, sought to elevate this officer by defaming Gen Grant, for at that time there were many aspirants to the Lieut. Generalcy This correspondent succeeded equally well in falsely reporting the battles to which his commanding officer figured, to such an extent that for more than a year he stood before the country as a great general while totally undeserving of the reputation

In 1863 I was ordered to Grant's Head Quarters, fully believing the reports in regard to his character, and afterwards, when I had proved them to be utterly false, disclosed to the general himself my early impressions and the prevalence of this opinion in New England For many months I sustained the intimate relation of staff surgeon and family physician, for at this time the General's family were with him at Vicksburg, and very frequently required my professional aid At this time, too it was that the General was thrown from his horse, and confined to his room for several weeks during which period I was with him almost constantly I have also been present repeatedly while General Grant, in company with Sherman, McPherson, and other leading officers, were discussing and planning military operations In short, not only have I seen him exhilarated by success amid the congratulations of friends, but also depressed by mental anxiety and physical suffering, and although the terms exhilaration and depression can scarcely be applied to a man of President Grant's temperamentality still I should say the circumstances were calculated to cause both in an extreme degree, and also such as to lead a man addicted to the abuse of liquor to drink immoderately.

However, it was the exception for him to take even a single glass socially, and on many occasions I most distinctly remember that he declined to drink with distinguished generals and prominent statesmen.

Soldiers, Read This!

If the so-called Liberal Republicans are ready so soon to heap insult and contumely upon the loyal soldiers of the Republic, what may we expect from the success of a party cbutrolled by a coalition of Northern Copperheads and Southern Rebels? And if any one doubts the hatred for the "Boys in Blue" which animates the party now seeking to rehabilitate treason, we cite the following scandalous insults to the loyal soldiers and loyal people of the nation from the closing sentences of Charles Sumner's published speech, with which he proposed to outrage the patriotic atmosphere of old Faneuil Hall by uttering the shame sentiments from its platform:—

"The time for the soldier has passed, especially when his armed power would once more remind fellow-citizens of their defeat. Victory over fellow-citizens should be known only in the rights it assures; nor should it be flaunted in the face of the vanquished. It should not be inscribed on regimental colors, or portrayed in pictures at the National Capitol. But the present incumbent is a regimental color with the forbidden inscription; he is a picture at the National Capitol recalling victories over fellow-citizens. It is doubtful if such a presence can promote true reconstruction."

This is the promised appeal of Sumner to affect the Maine election! This to the veterans of the Grand Army; to the heroes of Shiloh, of Donelson, of Fredericksburg, Antietam, Chicamaugua, of the Wilderness and of Appomattax! This to the emaciated survivors of those horrors of Andersonville, of Libby and Belle Isle, which could not quench or dim the vital glow of patriotism! This to the mourning widows, the childless parents, the fatherless orphans, who are walking through the darkness of bereavement because their dearest and best beloved were slaughtered by traitors while they were defending the flag, the honor and life of the nation! Ah, it has been often said that "Republics are ungrateful," but it was left to Sumner to hurl insult and reproach upon the heroes and martyrs of a nation before the wounds which they received in vindicating its honor upon a hundred bloody battle-fields have fairly closed. Only insult for the loyal soldier! The old battle flags, rent by the storm of shell and stained with the blood of heroic manhood, must be hurried out of sight; the sacred old uniform must be banished in disgrace; the soldiers of the Republic must forget that they fought for their country and their country must hasten to forget them! The veteran's arm-less sleeve is an affront to the "Liberal" gaze; the soldiers' monuments which we have decked with our annual garlands are hateful to the sight of the new species of patriotism; the very name of the Union Soldier is a stench in the nostrils of these people, and the representative soldier who led the veteran legions to Freedom's grandest triumphs must be thrust into obscurity lest his presence should reunite the people of the party they have plotted or some enemy of the nation shall be tempted that loyalty therefore beloved thus brushed. If this is the first demand of "reconciliation," how long before we shall be asked to abolish pensions to loyal soldiers, expunge every law which recognizes the services of patriotism, and wipe out the last remembrance of the debt we owe to the saviors of the nation's existence? This is but the utterance of a recent convert, and the party for which he speaks has been deliberately pronounced by its candidate Greeley, as "Rebel to the core to-day!"

People of the Dirigo State! Loyal men of the Penobscot Valley! This speech was prepared to influence your votes. It was prepared in support of Charles P. Kimball and Marcellus Emery, who was not a soldier and who is anxious that the war should be forgotten. Your answer is to be given on Monday next. Let your rebuke be given in that emphatic vote for SIDNEY PERHAM which will be the most direct and potent support of ULYSSES S. GRANT.

Every republican should so arrange his business that he can give Election day to his Country.

The Old Rebel Yell!

Marcellus Emery, hungering for office, asking that his scandalous record be forgotten and that a loyal community send him to Congress, while he has never recanted a syllable of his shameful utterances, devotes his newspaper organ to abuse of Governor Perham and incoherent shriekings about the tyrannical "cider law." Fellow citizens, he wants votes for Kimball and for Marcellus Emery, and that is the object of his outcry. It is not a new effort, but only a revival of the old "rebel yell" of the Bangor Democrat. Then he denounced Abraham Lincoln as he now vilifies Sidney Perham; he howled about the "UNHOLY AND UNJUSTIFIABLE WAR," as he now raves about the "cider law," and he now vents his malice upon the Republican party as he then gloated over the slaughter of Union soldiers, of whom he said after the battle of Bull Run:—

"LINCOLN'S HIRELINGS HAVE MET THEIR JUST FATE. THEY FIND NOW THE HOSPITABLE GRAVES TO WHICH THEIR TREACHEROUS SONS OF THE SOUTH WILL WELCOME THE INVADERS OF THEIR HOMES."

Remember that, on Monday next the standard-bearers are on one side; Greeley, Marcellus Emery and Kimball; and on the other GRANT, GEN. S. F. HERSEY AND PERHAM. Strike as "Lincoln's hirelings" struck!

"The people of the United States know Gen. Grant—have known all about him since Donelson and Vicksburg; they do not know his slanderers, and do not care to know them."—HORACE GREELEY.

EMERY AT ORONO.

WHAT LOYAL WORKINGMEN THINK OF AN UNREPENTANT REBEL-SYMPATHIZER—GHOSTS THAT WILL NOT DOWN AT A DEMAGOGUE'S BIDDING.

ORONO, Sept. 5th.

Mr. Marcellus Emery, editor of the Democrat of infamous memory to every loyal man, made his first speech in this town, last evening. The President of the meeting, N. Wilson, Esq., on introducing the speaker, referred to his war record, and egged the audience to overlook it, and "let by-gones be by-gones." He believed that Mr. Emery was sincere in the course that he took, and he honored him for it. But Mr. Wilson did not explain to his audience how much more worthy of honor a sincere traitor is than an insincere one. Is Mr. Emery now a sincere traitor during the war, is he not a sincere traitor to-day? Has he ever repented?

If he were as much a weathercock as some of the Mc's, who lead the drunken Greeley choruses in our streets, there might be some hope that he would change his course; but he was sincere and persistent in his treasonable course, according to Mr. Wilson's opinion, and, the story, "worthy of honor." Well, a man on whom principle rests so loosely that "he would vote for Victoria Woodhull, may honor such a man, but it was very hard for some of us, who were and are loyal to our country, to treat with common courtesy the man who rejoiced at the death of our sons and brothers who in the sincerity of his heart wished that every Union soldier that went from our State might be bayonetted by his brother traitors, who had the courage to enroll themselves under their chief, Jefferson Davis. It was a severe trial to remain quiet, as that sympathizer with the massacre of Fort Pillow, and the starving of our own brothers in Southern prisons, stood before us, pleading for our suffrages to elect him as our Representative to Congress.

Mr. Emery did not refer to his war record, except to say last he wished the past to be forgotten; and this silence I take to be a virtual plea of guilty. Mr. Emery told us that we were poor men—having "nothing but our hands and strong hearts." It is true; we are poor men—in one sense; but did he think that we were fools? Did he think because we earn our living in the mills, on our farms, &c., that that fore he could impose upon us; by the double-faced sham that was presented to us? Did he suppose that that fully-fingered politician, from Missouri, the land of Border Ruffianism, could stand before us, and urge us to vote for Greeley as Republicans, and then follow himself, urging us to vote for Greeley as Democrats, and we not see the fraud? We believe that if Greeley is a Republican, the whole Democratic party has been duped by his treachery; and, if he is a Democrat, the Liberal Republicans have been duped by him. Greeley must be false to one party or the other; and a political traitor is no more to be trusted than a traitor to his country. We shall vote against both. Some of us who believe that we have been true Democrats, will vote the straight Republican ticket next Monday. LABORER.

See that the name of your Republican neighbors are upon the voting list.

The Philadelphia North American says:

"By an examination of the returns from West Virginia, we find that although the proposition to disqualify all colored men from holding offices of profit or trust in that State was defeated, yet it received in several districts the full vote given for Camden, the Greeley-Democratic candidate for Governor. This is a fact which speaks volumes to the colored voters throughout the country."

A special dis patch from Washington says that the members of the Congressional Representative Committee state that all the information in their possession from Pennsylvania indicates the election of the entire Republican State ticket.

VERMONT TRASTES NO STRENGTH ON LOCAL ISSUES, BUT SPEAKS OUT MAGNIFICENTLY FOR GRANT! LET MAINE RESPOND ON MONDAY WITH A GLORIOUS MAJORITY!

Attend to the Voting Lists!

Only to-day and to-morrow remain for revising the voting lists. Every Republican should give personal attention to this matter to see that every voter within his neighborhood is properly enlisted, and that improper entries are corrected. at the Aldermen's Room, City Hall, to-day and to-morrow.

THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

WASHINGTON COUNTY POLITICS.

MACHIAS, Sept. 2, 1872.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

The Democratic County Convention and Mass Meeting convened at Machias last Thursday, Aug. 29th. Great expectations had been formed, and great preparations had been made for a grand demonstration which would strike terror into the hearts of the Republicans, and assure the doubting of the coalition. Mr. Pike sent one band from Milltown at his own expense, and two other bands were in attendance, one from Cherryfield and the other from Pembroke. The day was exceedingly fine, and nothing was needed to make a grand demonstration but people and enthusiasm. These elements were strikingly wanted all the forenoon. A large flag was raised on Main street at half-past ten o'clock A. M., and the small crowd was addressed by Mr. Martin from Ohio. Up to the hour of two in the afternoon no more people were present in the streets than would have been at any ordinary Convention, except such of the town people as were drawn out by the bands. The ordinary business of the Convention, after the organization, was done in the afternoon with a good degree of despatch. Between two and three P. M. the faithful Democracy of East Machias came into town with about twenty-five teams, escorted by the Cherryfield Band. This cavalcade proceeded through the principal streets for an hour or so, with the three bands interspersed in the line. They then repaired to the hall, where it had been arranged that Mr. Tilton should speak, as he declined to do so in the open air. The hall was well filled. Mr. Tilton's speech was two and a half hours in its delivery, and I have heard the remark made that it was strange that one with such a capacity for disingenuousness, that he couldn't make more than he did out of the fillings and short comings of the administration. There may be a species of honesty about him, as there may be about his free love doctrines and infidel religious sentiments. As to his power of swaying an audience, not much could be told about it, for probably more than half were not in sympathy at all with him, and so many of the Democrats were bewildered by his dexterous anti-slavery and semi-Republican principles, thrown out to catch and quiet Republicans, that they did not know what to make of him, but sometimes found themselves vociferously applauding for a moment the most heretical sentiments. Of course this was understood by the initiated, those who governed the chess, and was for the benefit of Republicans. Mr. Tilton's great foundation doctrine and text was: that the President was entirely responsible for all matters in the Government which he chose to criticise, but when he enumerated the thousand and one things which had been done in the interest of the country, it was the people who did it not Gen. Grant. Such false philosophy and specious reasoning was too deeply apparent to every sensible person to have any effect whatever. I have to hear, upon close enquiry, of a single person who was in any way affected by his reasoning. In fact, Mr. Tilton occupies a false position. His mission into this State has been and is, to debauch the Republican party, and draw off numbers from it to recruit the ranks of the Democratic party.—How far he has been successful next Monday will show. I have become quite extensively acquainted from various sources with his labors in this county and hazard nothing in saying that his efforts will prove utterly lost to the Democracy. The Democratic nominations on that day have scarcely, certainly nothing more, than the average elements of strength, and their defeat is certain. X.

GOVERNOR PERHAM IS SURE TO BE ELECTED. THE EXTENT OF THE MAJORITY AFFECTS ONLY THE NATIONAL CONTEST. INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA AND OHIO ARE LISTENING FOR THE VOICE OF MAINE!

THE TENNESSEE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION assembled at Nashville Wednesday, Horace H. Harrison presiding. About one-fifth of the delegates were colored. O. A. Freeman was nominated for Governor, Horace Maynard for Congressman for the State at large, and Alvar Haskins for Elector for the State at large. Resolutions endorsing the administration of President Grant and setting forth the principles of the Republican party were adopted.

SENATOR CHANDLER has not come to this State as has been reported, and has had no intention of coming. He has been closely confined to Washington by the exigencies of the National canvass, which he is effectively managing.

FACING THE INEVITABLE. The Boston Herald sensibly remarks:—

Our correspondents in Washington and New York speak of intelligence from Maine to the effect that Speaker Blaine will be defeated. Our information is to the contrary, and we fail to see how any good can be done for the cause by claiming that of which there is no prospect.

If you know of an absent Republican voter, see that he is induced to come home and vote on the 9th of September.

Examine the Voting Lists!

The voting lists of every locality should be thoroughly scrutinized by the Committees to see that the name of every Republican voter is properly entered; that measures be taken to get the absent home, and that fraudulent entries may be expunged in season, and persons not entitled to vote be challenged at the polls.

"Every one who chooses to live by pugilism or gambling or harlotry, with nearly every keeper of a tipping-house is politically a Democrat."—HORACE GREELEY.

THE LOUISVILLE CONVENTION. The straight-out Democrats at Louisville unanimously nominated Charles O'Conor for the Presidency, making his letter to them the basis of their platform, and John Quincy Adams of Massachusetts for Vice-President.—O'Conor, telegraphing a refusal to accept the nomination, Judge Lyons of Virginia, President of the Convention, was nominated in a flurry of enthusiasm. He, however, declared the proceedings out of order, accused O'Conor of cowardice, and adjourned the Convention until Thursday, when a resolution was adopted holding O'Conor bound to stand by the movement and pledging united support to the ticket of O'Conor and Adams. The future of the movement will therefore depend upon the course of its chief nominee.

"As to the administration of Gen. Grant, I recognize no one as a Republican who is not grateful for its judicious, energetic and successful efforts."—HORACE GREELEY.

The New York Tribune had predicted that the Republican majority in Vermont would not be much over 5000! At the Liberal headquarters in New York, Tuesday, the general opinion was that the Republicans would have less than 15,000 majority. It is hard for those men to comprehend the times in which they live.

A Point whereon you please to an election district which you will pronounce unjustly partisan—given up in great part to debauchery and vice—whose voters submit meekly to bogus policy-offices, gambling-houses, grog-shops, and darker dens of infamy; and there district will be found giving a large majority for that which stands under the Democratic party. "What is the footprint, the symptomatic shred which identifies those to whichever to what party?"—HORACE GREELEY.

A Vote for Kimball is a Vote for Greeley!

HOW IT APPEARS TO A LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT.

We publish below a copy of a letter addressed to one of the prominent leaders of the Democratic party in this city, by a citizen who has always voted the Democratic ticket hitherto, but who has refused from the outset to endorse or approve the shameless political bargain which has placed the Democratic party in the field without policy or principles and under the lead of its most insulting and bitter enemy. The writer fully recognizes that the coming State election is not to be fought on local issues, but that the contest is wholly significant with reference to its effect upon the Presidential campaign. It is in reality as direct a struggle between the interests of Grant and Greeley, as if their names were the only ones inscribed on the banners of the State election, and being utterly and irreconcilably opposed to Greeley, the writer declares his intention of voting in such a manner as to give the most force and effect to his opposition. When a life-long Democrat, accused at the betrayal of his party, so plainly recognizes the importance of waiving all minor issues in order to strike the heaviest blow at the prospects of Greeley, surely no Republican who is anxious for the election of General Grant should permit the thrusting forward of untimely local controversies by a crafty opposition, to induce him to withhold that support for the "straight Republican ticket" which means the straightest and most important support for Grant. We commend this manly and straight-forward letter to the consideration of our readers:—

BANGOR, Sept. 5, 1872.

——, Esq. Sir:—Having always voted the Democratic ticket, but now wishing to show you precisely where I am, I will state that from the first I have been bitterly opposed to the Greeley movement; and understanding, as I do now, THAT A VOTE FOR KIMBALL IS IN AID OF THAT OBJECT, I state that the coming election vote a STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN TICKET. What knowledge I am able to gain of the political movements requires me to consider this my duty.

Very Respectfully, Yours,

A. M. CAMPBELL.

THE DEMOCRATS—TERMS OF THE BARGAIN.

The Democratic State Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock. The Committee of Conference reported that the Liberals were willing to concede to the Democrats the State ticket if the latter would allow them the Congressmen at large. The report was discussed at length—several objecting to it, and urging that the Democrats should have the Congressmen at large, while conceding the Lieutenant and Supreme Court to the Liberals.

A LIVELY ROW.

The discussion grew very warm, and charges being freely made that the Committee on Conference had been packed, the Resolution was formally adopted for the appointment of a new Conference Committee.

ELECTORS.

The Conference Committee reported for electors at large, Amasa J. Parker, (Dem.) Henry R. Selden, (Repub.) and John C. Williams, (Dem.) with 32 District electors, of whom 17 were Democrats and 15 Republicans.

The Straight-Outs!

STICKING TO O'CONOR AND ADAMS!

Will it be a Fight or a Fizzle!

THE O'CONOR QUESTION.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 5. The Convention was not called to order until half-past ten o'clock. The Committee on Resolutions during the delay holding a consultation. It was understood at the hour of meeting, that no official proceedings in the Convention would be held until O'Conor could be definitely and finally heard from. The current talk is that Adams will be nominated for President if O'Conor continues to peremptorily decline. In that case, various persons are named in connection with the candidacy for the Vice President.

WITHDRAWAL OF LOUISIANA.

Mr. Kelly, of Penn., said that he had been invited by the Committee on Resolutions to read a communication on behalf of the Louisiana delegation, justifying their withdrawal from the Convention. The reason assigned for such a proceeding is the hopelessness of the cause of Democratic principles in consequence of decided declination of Mr. O'Conor.

RESOLVED TO HOLD O'CONOR IN THE TICKET.

Mr. Goodlett, of New York, offered the following resolution, which he said he thought would alter the determination of the Louisiana delegation:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention that Charles O'Conor, having fully and heartily approved the object and purposes of this Convention, and having been unanimously nominated for President, and John Quincy Adams, of Mass., for Vice President, that the delegates of the Democratic party here assembled, are unwilling to make other nominations in their stead, and the Democratic party will give them its any event our individual support.

A DISCUSSION.

Mr. Goodlett supported his resolution eulogizing O'Conor's ability, purity and Democratic fealty.

Mr. Moreau of Indiana urged that after the peremptory declination of O'Conor in his letter, the Convention owed it to its dignity to make new nominations and the New York delegation should withdraw O'Conor's name.

TELEGRAM FROM ADAMS.

Col. Duncan was given leave to read a telegram from Mr. Adams, as follows:

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 5. To Col. Banton Duncan, Louisville:—I will gladly serve as Vice President with O'Conor, and will accept nothing else. O'Conor must persist very stand.

(Signed) JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

A TRIAL VOTE.

On a call of States the motion to lay Goodlett's motion on the table was lost, and during the roll call as the States voted aye or nay, the announcement was greeted with applause by the partisans of each side.

VOTED TO SUPPORT O'CONOR AND ADAMS.

After some discussion on Col. Duncan's request to vote for Texas and Maryland by proxy, which was refused. Mr. Moreau of Indiana moved the adoption of Mr. Goodlett's resolution, and it was carried by yes, 544; nays, 30.

SUPPLEMENTARY RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Bayard, of New Jersey, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted a supplementary report as follows:

Resolved, That we are opposed to giving public lands to corporations and favor their disposal to actual settlers only.

Resolved, That we favor a judicious tariff for revenue purposes only, and that we are unalterably opposed to class legislation and taxation, which curtails in fewest the expense of many under the pica of protection. The report was adopted.

ADJOURNMENT.

On motion of Mr. Moreau of Indiana the thanks of the convention were returned to the presiding officer, Mr. Lyons, for his peculiarly able, impartial and courageous performance of duty. Judge Lyons made a few characteristic remarks in acknowledgment of the compliment and the convention adjourned sine die.

MASS MEETING.

Immediately after the adjournment of the Convention the delegates reassembled as a mass meeting, Mr. Bayard of New Jersey in the chair. Messrs. Pomeroy, Golladay Weems of Georgia, and others made speeches, and a telegram from Atlanta was read announcing great enthusiasm in that city over the action of the Convention.

GENEVA ARBITRATION.

RECEPTION.

GENEVA, Sept. 4. The arbitrators this evening held a reception which was attended by the principal inhabitants, foreign residents and travelers now in the city.

A LONDON REPORT.

LONDON, Sept. 5. The Daily Telegraph says "It has authority that no definite decision has yet been reached by the Geneva Tribunal and that the examination of the details will render necessary the postponement of the decision beyond the present week.

NOT FOR GREELEY. Mr. Editor—In a town not far from Bangor a Greeley flag was raised on the 4th inst. The funds to purchase the flag were raised by a prominent Democratic politician, who while engaged in the task of raising the funds stepped into the village hotel, which is kept by a very excellent man who is a Democrat. On being asked to contribute for the specified object the gentleman replied, "I am a Democrat and cannot swallow such a traitor to his life-long principles (if he ever had any) as Greeley is." The good landlady hearing the conversation, stepped in and asked "why didn't the Democratic party nominate an honest and and consistent Democrat instead of taking that old fool, Greeley?" The politician, replied that they did not like Greeley, but took him because they thought he would beat Grant, and ended a somewhat lengthy explanation in this way: "I would vote for Victoria Woodhull, to beat Grant." Who says "the Greeley movement doesn't rest on principles?" In the same town several Democrats repudiate Greeley and will vote for Grant.

THE STATE FAIR.

A LOOK OVER THE GROUNDS—THE IMPROVEMENTS AND ALTERATIONS—PROSPECTS FOR THE FAIR, ETC.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Wasson, the President, and D. M. Dunham, Esq., local Secretary, of the State Agricultural Society, we had the opportunity yesterday of thoroughly inspecting the improvements on the grounds designed for the use of the Society during the State Fair which occurs in this city Sept. 17th to 20th, inclusive.

THE GROUNDS,

long known as those used by the Penobscot Agricultural Society, are located on Union St., about a mile and a half from Kenduskeag bridge, and are remarkably level and finely situated for the purpose. The high fence which surrounded them has been moved towards the street so that the area encircled is nearly one-half larger than formerly, and the new sheds, stalls, stands, etc., which have been erected, have so changed the appearance of the locality that it is hardly recognizable.

Commencing at the street we find that a double fence has been built to the entrance, making a lane for the entry of cattle, and on the right of this is situated the road for the entry of teams, and on the left another for their exit, each having a separate gate in the fence around the grounds. To the right of these all is located a good sidewalk for the admission of pedestrians, the ticket office for teams being situated at the outer gate and that for people on foot at the inner. The latter is built in connection with the offices of the Secretary and Treasurer, and about them a broad plank platform has been constructed.

Entering the gate we come into a broad open space in the rear of the grand stand, surrounded on the three other sides by the stalls and pens built against the fence—124 box stalls and 100 open stalls for horses situated on the right, and the cattle stalls, sheep and swine pens and poultry sheds on the left. In this space all carriages and teams admitted to the grounds must remain, none being allowed in the ring inside the track. At the right of the entrance a tent one hundred feet square will be put up for the President's headquarters. At the left of the gate a strong lockup has been constructed, where all disturbers of the peace will be stowed away by the twenty-four policemen who will be on duty. This establishment is very properly placed near the quarters intended for the swine.

Just behind the grand stand and at the right of the entrance is a capacious building erected for the use of the ladies, which will be fitted up with good furniture, lounges, etc., for use in case of sudden illness, while water from the aqueduct, mirrors, etc., will be provided for those wishing to arrange their toilet. Further to the right is the ladies' dining room, which has been leased to Mr. D. M. Dunham of this city.

THE GRAND STAND,

which is located where the old one formerly stood is 442 feet long, and will seat comfortably 3,000 persons. Every care has been taken in its construction to make it perfectly strong and safe, and as a practical engineer said the other day after an examination, "it will safely bear a train of cars, locomotive and all." There is no possibility of repeating the accident which happened at Augusta two years since. Access to the stand is had by four wide gates on the lower front side, at each of which policemen will be stationed to preserve order. At the left of the ground stand and entirely separate, a small stand has been erected for pool-selling, and opposite, across the track, are the judges' and reporters' stands built close together, the latter provided with a broad table for writing purposes. At the right of these is the headquarters of the Chief Marshal.

Horses to trot in the races will enter the ring through an archway cut through the middle of the grand stand, opposite the judges'.

THE TRACK,

one mile in length, has been greatly improved and is now acknowledged to be in many respects the best in the State. The "home stretch" and "scoring ground" has been widened ten feet for a distance of 1320 feet, and the whole track has been made five feet wider. The surface has been levelled, planed and rolled until it is as smooth and almost as hard as a floor. A high picket fence has been built on the outside the track in front of the grand stand, and commencing on the second quarter a strong railing 700 feet long has been put up on the outer edge where there is an embankment. Inside the track the ground is very level and will afford the military companies an excellent field for their drill for the prize flag. Tall poles with colored targets will be set at the quarter, half, and three quarter lines, and the whole track is visible from nearly all parts of the grounds.

Ample provision has been made for supplying feed and water on the grounds for stock. Two wells have been dug and with two aqueducts will furnish an unlimited amount of water. About forty tons of hay has been purchased, and will be distributed wherever needed from two teams engaged especially for the purpose. In short, no pains have been spared in fitting up the grounds, as it may be judged from the expenditures, which will reach nearly $4,500 by Saturday night.

THE RAILS

will be fitted up with tables 2 feet 10 inches wide, with a pace of 4 feet between them.—We shall mention the arrangements more in detail in a day or two. The indications are that every seat will be occupied Thursday, and to be fair, there is a call on the grounds to suspend business that day.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Among the other reformers, who now go for Greeley, may be counted all the members of James Buchanan's Cabinet, and all the members of Jeff. Davis' Cabinet who are living!

Plantamour's comet was a failure; but no more of a failure than the "Greeley deluge," the "Tidal Wave," the "Grand Uprising," which were predicted by the organs.

Greeley has been expatiating on the beneficent influence of claret, says the Missouri Democrat. Recently Gratz Brown proclaimed the malevolent influence of soft crabs.

Senator Cameron stated a few days ago that he was not a candidate for United States Senator, but he intended to see that neither Curtin, Forney nor McClure got it.

Lincoln was once talking to Montgomery Blair during the war, when he burst out, "I say, Blair, what can we do with that faultfinding, miserable Greeley and his paper?—Why, he has done more damage than twenty good generals can undo!"

A Washington dispatch says: "In reference to the Senatorial contest in Oregon, it can be said that Judge Williams is not a candidate, and has no intention to be so. He is positively out of the field, and the use made of his name in connection therewith is entirely without his authorization and against his wishes."

The Providence Journal might use softer words, but it could hardly tell more truth than when it says: "The campaign, on the part of the Greeley organs, seems to be one great lie sustained by innumerable smaller lies."

Mrs. Livermore, Mrs. Lucy Stone, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Beecher Stowe, Mrs. Lydia Maria Child, Grace Greenwood, Mrs. Cleminer Ames, Mrs. Stanton, Miss Anthony and Mrs. Hooker are earnestly in favor of the election of Grant. Miss Dickinson stands almost alone as a supporter of Greeley and hater of "that man Grant." Mr. Blackwell says that "of some 5000 women suffragists personally known to the proprietors of the Woman's Journal, not 500 favor Mr. Greeley's election."

Alex. Stephens has been sick, says the Missouri Democrat, and his stomach is too weak to permit him to banquet on crow. He challenges anybody to "point out a single usurpation or act of despotism by the Grant wing of the Radical party, under which the people now groan, which was not approved and is not now sanctioned by Mr. Greeley?" Very true. But will the Stephens wing of the rebel party never forgive the Republicans for not hanging a few dozen of the rebel leaders?—The "despotism" which permitted the traitors to live ought not to be counted an unpardonable sin. Let us have peace.

"The truth is," says the New York Times, "that the Tammany machine is the same thing that it was in Ring days. Some new figureheads have been set up as Sachems, but when it comes to making nominations or doing any political work or exercising political control, the same old corrupt gang turns up and they go for Greeley as naturally as vultures do for carrion."

STATE NEWS.

The 13th Maine Regiment celebrated their anniversary at Pearl Island Tuesday.

Miss Elizabeth True was thrown from a carriage near Mechanic Falls a few days since and had her shoulder dislocated.

Asahel A. Brooks, a native of Porter, was recently killed in a saw mill, in Cambria County, Pa.

Sabine F. Berry, esq., of Houlton, has been appointed Deputy Collector of Customs at Van Buren, in place of Henry J. Hathaway, removed.

Mr. William Wiswell of Portland, has sold one half of his patent right for shackling cars to a company in New York, for a very handsome sum and will retire from business.

Mr. Hosley Davis, who met with the accident at the Maine Central depot, Portland, Monday, died Tuesday morning from exhaustion.

MAINE POLITICS.

Secretary Robeson addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at Gorham, Tuesday evening. His effort is spoken of in the highest terms as an able and statesmanlike presentation of the questions involved in this contest.

Ashton Hall was well filled Wednesday evening, to hear Gov. Hawley of Connecticut, who delivered a most telling address on the political issues of the day. The speaker's arguments were received with marked favor. It was one of the best speeches of the campaign.

The Democrats and Liberals of Washington county have nominated the following ticket: Senators, Giles M. Wentworth of Calais, and Jared G. Nash of Addison; Commissioner, M. S. Fickett of Millbridge; Treasurer, John J. Lynes of Machias; Register of Probate, William Hobart of Eastport; Register of Deeds, Samuel Lyons of Calais; Sheriff, Warren Hathaway of Cutler.

Congressmen Dawes and Frye spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience at the Congregational church in Fryeburg, Wednesday afternoon. The voters of that part of the State were never more in earnest than now, and will give a good account of themselves next Monday.

Hon. Wm. P. Frye addressed a large meeting in Hiram, Monday night. A correspondent of the Press says the average Republican majority of the town the past ten years has been 35, but it will be increased Monday.

The Republicans of Oxford County made made the following nominations for the Legislature: Eben W. Gregg, Esq., Andover, for Bethel District; Eben E. Rand, Esq., Greenwood, for Paris District; Augustus J. Knight, Esq., Peru, for that District; C. O. Pendexter, Denmark, for that District; John Locke, Esq., Fryeburg, for that District.

The N. Y. Evening Post says: "Ex-Senator Doolittle's attempted defence of himself, which we publish elsewhere, shows him to be a good deal more of a rogue than even the original correspondence revealed."

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Because medicines that will stop a cough will often on occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood, hence Sage says, as follows, and, in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of cases of consumption. Many are now complaining with dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling as if the food that is taken lies heavy on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms are often the original from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two boxy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lungs, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are in a state of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system, and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is of a bilious habit, a dose of Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Penn., and for sale by GEO. C. GOWEN & CO., Hanover street, Boston, & JOHN F. HENRY, 8 College place, New York, Wholesale Agents.

IN MEMORIAM.

On the bosom of the river
Where the sun unloosed his quiver,
And the starlight streamed forever,
Shined a vessel light and free.
Morning dewdrops hung like manna
On the bright folds of her banner,
While the zephyrs rose to fan her
Gently to the radiant sea.

At the crow a pilot beaming
In the sun of youth stood dreaming,
And the waves he scarcely heeding,
Threw a hair the breezes spurted,
And as the waves he heeded,
Off the pilot, deep-discerned,
Wind and lays of hope and love.

Through those locks so blissply flowing,
Buds of flaxen bloom wormbelving,
And the hands soon wearied growing
Like them a tyre of gold
Swift flown the stream he guided,
Ah! the purple wave divided,
And the rainbow arch abided
Over the canvas' snowy fold.

Austin, hearts with fond devotion,
Watched his sailing to the ocean,
Prayed that he never would return,
Lest the elements might rise.
And he seemed some young Apollo,
Charming summer with his follow,
With the sea-nymphs for his flag's corolla
Troubled to his music sighs.

But those purple waves enchanted,
Into double a city haunted,
By an awful spell that daunted
Every comer in her shore.
Night shade, rank the air encumbered,
And pale marble statues numbered
Where the living ones slumbered,
And awoke to light no more.

Then like rushed with lightening quickness
Over her, nor a mortal sickness,
And disasters fearful thickness
Gathered o'er his temples fair,
And he's swept a dying murmur
Through the lively-South summer
As the beam in the pilot comer
Perished by that city there.

Still rolls on that radiant river,
And the sun unbends his quiver
And the starlight streams forever
On the bosom as before.
But that vessel's rainbow banner
Never a signal in the gay savanna,
And that pilot's late drops manna
On the waves no more.
